PROFILE

I am a Master of Architecture and Civil Engineering and have recently graduated from Madrid Polytechnic University with a specialization on Architectural Heritage. I have since accumulated some experience on dwelling renovations as a freelance, for which I aim to work as an architect at a reputable architectural studio to complete my training. My academic studies provided me with ample skills from abstract analysis to a more practical and technological approach that I intend to compliment with a more sober practice. My strongest interests in architecture are related to: renovating architectural heritage - adapting it to contemporary lifestyle, urban planning related to today's cities' complexity, current dwelling issues and sustainability.
